Why Auto Tires are Sent Back.

Ignorance Causes a Heap of Trouble.

The Growth of Branch Rubber Stores.

Makers of automobile tires and the manufacturers themselves, it is to be feared, swear sometimes, when tires are returned for repairs which would not have been sent back at all had good common sense and thought been made use of by the owners or operators of the automobiles. The tires of the front wheels of an auto are lighter than the rear tires, because the drive comes on the latter and of necessity they must be heavy. But some automobile owners get the front wheels on behind and vice versa, and then just what might be expected, happens. The lighter tires do not stand the strain. The truth of this assertion is proved by the wheels that are sent back with the tires still on them. Very likely the automobile man grows and complains to the manufacturer about the tires, into the bargain. No wonder it makes the rubber makers mad.

Branch Stores.

The marvelous growth of the business of making rubber specialties, such as toys, surgical and sporting goods, etc., has caused the establishment of what are practically new features, namely branch stores. Rubber goods have been for sale outside of the general merchandise store, in which there might have been located a certain line of rubber goods, especially adapted to the trade in a certain section of the country for only a few years.

Now, each of the big rubber factories has from one to a dozen branch stores, located all over the country, directed and conducted by its own men, who exploit the excellence and superiority of the particular brand of goods they sell. Anything from rubber balls to car buffers may be found in these stores, and they often carry stock worth many thousands of dollars. The keenness of the competition which has come into the rubber making industry of late, is also responsible for the new move, and branch houses are becoming more numerous each year.

New Boat Needed.

The Diamond Rubber Co. may have to buy a new boat for the transportation of goods from its main plant to the factory at Halo, via the canal, or give up that method of transit. The reason is that the launch the company made use of, was never built to carry heavy loads of freight and the motive power gave out and the sides of the boat were bulged. A boat better suited to the purpose may be secured for another navigation season.

An Evangelist's Story.

"I suffered for years with a bronchial or lung trouble and tried various remedies but did not obtain permanent relief until I commenced using One Minute Cough Cure," writes Rev. James Kirkman, evangelist, of Belle River, Ill. "I have no hesitation in recommending it to all sufferers from maladies of this kind." One Minute Cough Cure affords immediate relief for coughs, colds and all kinds of throat and lung troubles. For croup it is unequalled. Absolutely safe. Very pleasant to take, never fails and is really a favorite with the children. They like it.

MARY

Will Have Special Thanksgiving Day.

Governor Issued Proclamation and Sent Turkey.

Des Moines, Ia., Dec. 14.—Governor Leslie M. Shaw has issued a special Thanksgiving proclamation in order to accommodate a little girl in the northwestern part of the State who was ill Nov. 28, and was unable to partake of the usual turkey repast. He also sent her a fine turkey for her special Thanksgiving dinner with his compliments.

A few days ago the Governor received this letter which resulted in the special proclamation:

"Dear Governor: Please can we have another Thanksgiving Day, and have it next Thursday? I was sick and could not eat any turkey or any other good things. I ain't very big, but I like turkey. Please let us have it. Your friend, MARY."

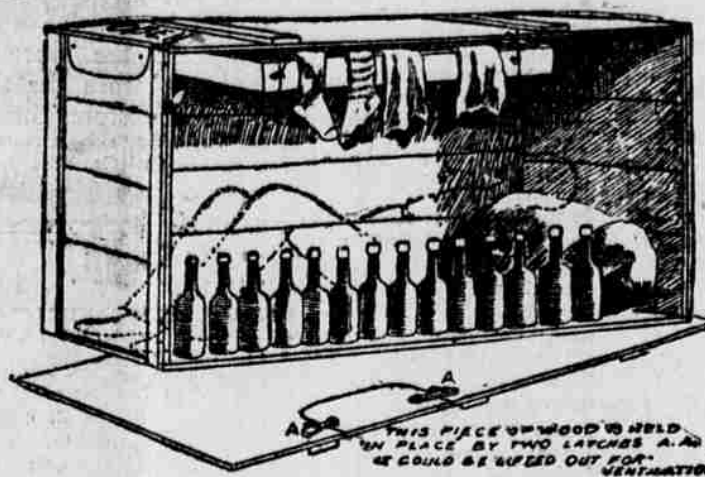

The Governor refused to give out the girl's name or her place of residence. The proclamation issued was not spread upon the public records, but was sent directly to Mary.

A Word to the Wise.

WADE'S PHOTOS, BUTTONS AND BROOCHES, FOR CHRISTMAS. 207 E. Market.

FOR SWEET LOVE'S SAKE.

Why John Beck Shipped Himself Across the Ocean as Freight—He Has Won the Friendship of a Wealthy Broker.

Johann Beck and a Diagram of the Box In Which He Shipped Himself to New York.

by the steamer Palatia, Captain Grossing.

I calculate upon your magnanimity which will spare me an unpleasant return, although I have not the honor of being acquainted with you. I am not afraid of any work, and should like to work off the expenses.

Coming with the Palatia, as already mentioned, I leave Hamburg on Sunday, Nov. 17, in the hope of arriving in New York, in good health. I have need to excuse myself for this trouble I have caused you, as well as for my bad English. My best thanks in advance. Very respectfully, JOHANN BECK.

The box in which Beck enclosed himself contained also his extra clothing and a cheap satchel. In the latter was found a package of letters addressed to Johann Beck at No. 23 Langstrasse, Hamburg and at No. 6 Altstadt.

Some of the letters were signed Johanna, and were evidently from a sweetheart. Others were from Otto Schubert.

The woman's letters were written from a hospital in Hamburg, where the writer had undergone an operation.

They expressed hope that Beck would secure employment, and a reference was made to a contemplated trip to this country.

The other letters and documents showed that Beck is a mechanical draughtsman and a painter. The box in which he began his journey is evidently one of his own construction.

It is made of light material, with spaces between the boards sufficient to admit air.

The top was fastened down with hooks on the inside, and could be opened or closed by Beck at will.

There was also a small hinged door or shutter in the side of the box, near the top which also fastened inside.

Beck provisioned the box with seven bottles of liquid coffee and chocolate and some bread and sausages. Then he made arrangements for its shipment, got inside and was taken on board the steamer.

A cablegram from Hamburg, yesterday, says that Beck is a painter, who is known as the box traveler, and who has made similar trips before.

REVIVAL PLANNED.

An effort to awaken the spiritual life of the churches in Akron is about to be made. A special meeting of the Evangelical Alliance has been called for Monday afternoon, at 1:30 p. m., in the First M. E. church, with a view to starting a religious revival in Akron. In the line of work mapped out for a religious awakening all over the United States. It is planned for all the churches in this country to begin revival services at the same time, and continue them for a certain period. The Alliance Monday will discuss plans for beginning the work in Akron.

Dr. Gies of Youngstown, will be at the Hotel Buchtel Monday and will remain for two days only.

"MILITARY

Fashions For Ladies Have Had Their Day," Says a Dealer.

"The military in ladies' fashions," said a local dealer in ladies' embellishments, "has served its usefulness in a large degree, and while there has not been a return to the frills and furbelows of soft, fluffy femininity and effects in styles, the military craze seems to have died a natural death, to a great extent.

"Jackets and waists have lost the smart double pocket, 'shoulder arms' and 'brass buttons' effect. To be sure, the campaign hat, in various methods and stages of imitation, remains with us. The soft felt hat was found to be comfortable, sensible, and—becoming, and will remain for a long time. "The strongest imitation of masculinity this year seems to be in the long

Large Crowds of Idlers

Are In Police Court Daily.

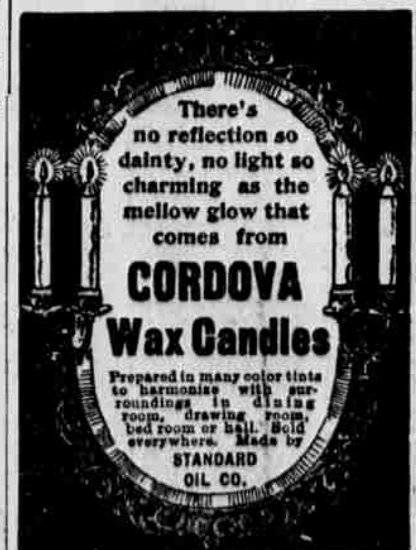

Lately, Police Court has been a great attraction to a certain class of people. The spectators' section of the court room is crowded full, and there is scarcely elbow room in the lobby. The visitors are all well known, for they are principally idlers who are on hand every day. They read the Police news every day, to find the dates of trials they believe will be gratifying to their morbid curiosity. It is not enough that they should be driven from the court room, every now and then, by Prisonkeeper Washer, who is so disgusted with the regular visitors who come to satisfy curiosity alone, that he has lost all patience with them, or tolerance. The old, wornout and hopeless vagrant, coats, and, by the way, the gentlemen, though they would hesitate to own it, seem to be pleased to adopt a feminine fashion, in the jokers, which they consider, give their long overcoats the 'hang' they think so stylish."
